INGRATITUDE TO PARENTS.

There is a proverb: "A father can more easily maintain six children than six children can one father." Luther relates the story: There was once a father who gave up everything to his children—his house, his fields, his good—and expected for this the children would support him; after he had been some time with the oldest son, the latter grew tired of him, and said to him, "father I had a son born to me this night, and there, where your arm chair stands, the cradle must come; will you the second son, he also grew tired of him and said, "Father you like a warm room, and that hurrs my head. Won't you go to my brother. the baker?" The father went, and after he had been some time with the third son, he also found him toublesome, and said to him: "Father, the people run in and out here all day, as if it were a pigeon house, and you cannot have your Monday sleep; would you not be better off at my sister Kate's near the town wan! The old may be paid on delivery.

man remarked to himself, "Yes I will do so; I may be paid on delivery.

JOHN F. LATHAM, will try it with my daughter." She grew weary of him, and she was always so fearful, when he went to church or anywhere else, and was obliged to descend the steep stairs; and at her sister El zabeth's there was no stairs to desond, as she lived on the ground floor.

For the sake of peace, the old man assented, and went to the other daughter? but after some time she, too, became tired of him, and told him, by a third person, that the house near the water was too damp for a man who suffered with the gout, and her sister, the grave digger's wife, at St. John's, had much drier lodg-The old man himself thought she was right, and went outside the gate to his youngest | H resumed his business at the old stand, daughter, but after he had been three days with her, her little son said his grandfather, "Mother said yesterday to cousen Elizabeth that there was no better chamber for you than such a one as father digs." These words broke the old man's heart, so that he sunk back in his chair and died.

FRENCH ENTERPRISE IN VIRGINIA. - The arrangements which have recently been completed in Virginia, by Messrs. Bello des Minieres & Co., are likely to do much for the material prosperity and prestige of that old State. These French capitalists, who are proprietors of vast tract of land in the Old Dominion, including extensive coal and iron fields, have succeeded in obtaining a charter from the Virginia Legislature, entitling them to complete the James River and Kanawha Canal, that property having passed into their hands, by transfer from the original cor-poration. By means of this great work, the Ohio will be connected with the seaboard, and a safe, cheap and very direct communication be opened up to the West. Nor is this all.— France needs coal, iron and ship timber, and OVAL & SQUARE PICTURE FRAMES, these are to be found in immense quantities along the line of the proposed highway.

It is the intention of the French company to avail itself of these resources, and with the active co operation of the home government, to proceed at once, as soon as the canal shall be cut through, to a systematic development of the untold mineral and agricultural wealth of an entire new stock of the Alleghany region. The Richmond Republic sets forth some of the direct advantages which will accrue to that section, by virtue of the new enterprise. The direct outlay of the company for work, for food, for labor, for ma chinery and tools, and for material, must be, for years to come, enormous. Beside all this, the Messrs. Bellot propose to bring large colonies of French people to labor on the work and to settle on the soil; not only laborers of all sorts and of both sexes, but skilled mechanics and manufacturers, and business men of education and enterprise. Most of them bring a little capital with them, and always in gold. These artisans, farmers, laborers and peasants from the rural parts of France, are a simple, laborous, frugal, temperate and moral people, and Virginia may well hail their accession with no dissembled gratification.
